

STRUGGLE TO THE LAST DROP?

The politics & Economics of Water: Local, State & International

Saturday Nov 8th 2-3:30 PM @ 1 Parlin, UT

Free and open to the public

The struggle for fair and equitable access to clean water goes forward at all levels from local to international. Issues around water privatization have sparked a political crisis in Bolivia and are simmering in Texas, while social movements in India reject "big dam" projects that threaten massive displacements. In this program, representatives of Save Our Springs, the Sierra Club, and Association for India's Development-Austin will discuss the threats and the opportunities. Sponsored by AID-Austin
Contact : 450 1503 or aidut@uts.cc.utexas.edu

STRUGGLE TO THE LAST DROP?

The politics & Economics of Water: Local, State & International

Saturday Nov 8th 2-3:30 PM @ 1 Parlin, UT

Free and open to the public

The struggle for fair and equitable access to clean water goes forward at all levels from local to international. Issues around water privatization have sparked a political crisis in Bolivia and are simmering in Texas, while social movements in India reject "big dam" projects that threaten massive displacements. In this program, representatives of Save Our Springs, the Sierra Club, and Association for India's Development-Austin will discuss the threats and the opportunities. Sponsored by AID-Austin
Contact : 450 1503 or aidut@uts.cc.utexas.edu

STRUGGLE TO THE LAST DROP?

The politics & Economics of Water: Local, State & International

Saturday Nov 8th 2-3:30 PM @ 1 Parlin, UT

Free and open to the public

The struggle for fair and equitable access to clean water goes forward at all levels from local to international. Issues around water privatization have sparked a political crisis in Bolivia and are simmering in Texas, while social movements in India reject "big dam" projects that threaten massive displacements. In this program, representatives of Save Our Springs, the Sierra Club, and Association for India's Development-Austin will discuss the threats and the opportunities. Sponsored by AID-Austin
Contact : 450 1503 or aidut@uts.cc.utexas.edu

STRUGGLE TO THE LAST DROP?

The politics & Economics of Water: Local, State & International

Saturday Nov 8th 2-3:30 PM @ 1 Parlin, UT

Free and open to the public

The struggle for fair and equitable access to clean water goes forward at all levels from local to international. Issues around water privatization have sparked a political crisis in Bolivia and are simmering in Texas, while social movements in India reject "big dam" projects that threaten massive displacements. In this program, representatives of Save Our Springs, the Sierra Club, and Association for India's Development-Austin will discuss the threats and the opportunities. Sponsored by AID-Austin
Contact : 450 1503 or aidut@uts.cc.utexas.edu